

GOOD FOOD in Greenwich

This charter is for individuals, organisations and businesses who want to commit to good food

We want Greenwich to be known as a great place for good food for all. Celebrating our rich diversity, we will grow, produce, prepare and share good food that is healthy, sustainable, affordable and accessible to all. Good food to us means food from farming and supply systems that:

- Enhance the health and welfare of people and animals
- Improve the working and living environment
- Promote fairness and enrich society and culture

GET INVOLVED!

In order to achieve these ambitious aims, we need your help; so if you'd like to support the Good Food in Greenwich Charter just follow these three simple steps:

- Make a commitment to do at least one new thing a year to support the aims of the charter
- Promote the charter to everyone you know
- Sign up online to register your commitment, tell us what you're already doing, and what you want to achieve

Promote and improve health and well-being for all

- by accepting that everyone deserves to be able to afford and eat good food and not suffer from food poverty
- by demanding that food providers serve good food to promote the well-being of everyone they serve

Build and support a strong and thriving local economy

- by buying from local and regional food producers and suppliers
- by supporting new food enterprises and jobs

Encourage life-long learning

- by providing and making use of opportunities to learn about how to grow, buy, cook and eat good food
- by encouraging organisations to embed and promote good food

Celebrate a strong and vibrant food culture

- by getting involved in events to celebrate our food culture, such as food growing, food fairs, festivals and markets

Ensure fairness in the food chain

- by campaigning for or committing to excellent working conditions for everyone in the food chain
- by using purchasing power to support a fairer global food economy e.g. buying fair trade and local produce

Promote environmental sustainability

- by reducing packaging, waste, water and energy use and increasing composting and recycling
- by using space to grow food

Push for change

- by using our influencing and lobbying powers as individuals, communities, businesses, public sector and voluntary sector
- by supporting local and national campaigns

And we will continue to strive to find new and innovative ways to support good food in Greenwich
